Three City Council members, Robert Golinick, Dorothy Latuszek, and Joseph White, are seeking re-election on the Tuesday, Nov. 3, ballot. Three positions will be filled by the election and each term is for four years. The polls will be open from 7 a.m.-8 p.m. at the Grayling City Hall.

Truck with Building Supplies Rolls Over on N.B. I-75

A truck loaded with building supplies from the J & B Supply Company in Flint rolled over on northbound I-75 about 6:30 a.m. October 21 near the 261 mile marker. The driver, Bruce Wimp, 26, of Mt. Morris, was injured and taken to Mercy Hospital by the Crawford County Ambulance Corps. Sheriff deputies said the driver was adjusting materials in the front seat when he swerved off the road. When he brought the 2½-ton truck back on the road, it rolled over.

Dinner Bell Broken Into

A small safe was taken from Gene's Dinner Bell early Monday morning or late Sunday night, Oct. 25. An office window was discovered broken at 5:37 a.m. and police believe the thief entered the office through the window.

GHS and Frederic Blood Banks Scheduled for November 4-5

On November 4, 1987, from 9:00 a.m. until 3:00 p.m., there will be a blood bank at Grayling High School. If you miss the GHS blood bank, there will be another one at the Frederic Township Hall on November 5, from 4-8 p.m.

Fingerprinting for Child Registry Program Continues in Schools

Deputies from the Crawford County Sheriff Department will begin fingerprinting students for the Child Registry program on October 30 at the Grayling Christian School and November 12-13 at the Frederic Elementary School. Authorization forms will be sent home with each student at the beginning of the week that they will be fingerprinted. If your child does not bring home an authorization form, please stop in at the Sheriff's Department and pick one up. No student will be fingerprinted without a signed authorization form.

Correction

The word "Infant" was inadvertently left out of a page one article on United Way last week. A sentence concerning the Crawford AuSable Day Care Center should have read: Programs offered include the only licensed infant care setting in this area.

City Police Issues Trick-or-Treat Safety Tips

The City of Grayling Police Department would like to bring to everyone's attention that Halloween falls on Saturday, Oct. 31, this year.

The Police Department would like to recommend that this year's Trick-or-Treating be done between the hours of 6:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. People driving in the Grayling area are asked to be exceptionally observant for the young "Goblins" during this time.

These friendly reminders are to parents and young goblins participating in Halloween activities:

1. Masks or material obstructing vision should be removed when crossing traffic areas.
2. All treats should be taken home for inspection before they are eaten.
3. Costumes should be non-flammable material and light in color for good visibility.

4. Flashlights should be carried after dark; parents should attempt to have their little goblins escorted and confined to their own neighborhood.

5. Goblins should approach residents having porch lights or similar indications of welcome displayed.

6. Parents noticing suspicious items brought home by young people should question where they were obtained, and if any items are found to be abnormal they should be immediately brought to the attention of the local law enforcement authorities, says Grayling City Police Chief Pete Stephan.

Mercy Hospital, Grayling will be x-raying candy on Halloween night from 6:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. Parents who would like their children's candy x-rayed for radiopaque foreign objects (pins, needles, some glass fragments, etc.) may do so by coming through the hospital's emergency entrance to the Radiology Department.

Patrick McNamara, D.O., Mercy Hospital's Radiologist, will be available for the testing. The hospital emphasizes that it is the ultimate responsibility of parents or guardians to screen the children's candy. However, we offer the x-ray service free to the community.

Local MESC Places 109 In Jobs; Unemployment Rate Here Below State's

During the 3-month period which ended September 30, 1987, the Grayling office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC) reports placing 109 people in jobs with local employers. Another 18 job-seekers found jobs on their own after receiving MESC services such as Tax Credit Vouchers, according to Timothy Herrick, West Branch Job Service Manager. During the same calendar quarter there were 1467 new applications for Unemployment Benefits within the 8-county area served by the West Branch office. Total job placements for the area were 731.

The West Branch MESC office offers its Job Services through a network of peripheral offices located in six counties. Total job placements reported by each location is as follows: Clare; 176, Gladwin; 49, Grayling; 109, Omer; 82, Oscoda; 109, Prudenville; 63, Roscommon; 44 and West Branch; 99. It should be noted that the 3 offices with the lowest jobs totals are each operated only part-time.

Current unemployment rates for each county is as follows: Crawford 8.1%, Arenac 8.6%, Clare 8.4%, Gladwin, 8.7%, Iosco 8.3%, Ogemaw 9.7%, Oscoda 6.6% and Roscommon 6.8%. The state unemployment rate is 8.3%.

Grayling To Offer Bus Service Again

By Don Geiss

After being without Greyhound bus service for two months Grayling will once again be served in the near future when the Bear's Country Inn begins service as the local depot.

According to Barry McClanahan at the Inn, there has been no exact date set yet for beginning service but it should be near the first of November. He said that a Greyhound Company representative will come to Grayling and work with him to begin the service soon.

The bus service had been available until the first of August at the E-Z Mart near the south edge of Grayling but owner Gerald Galvani gave it up because there was not enough space available for passengers to wait and still have room for his merchandise customers.

Bear's Country Inn will not only serve as a depot stop but will also be a rest and lunch-dinner stop for passengers from the north

Consumers Power Brings Eyes and Ears Program To Crawford County

Consumers Power Company's Eyes and Ears Program, which is designed to help children in danger, has started in Crawford County in conjunction with local law enforcement agencies and schools.

The program is a joint effort in which Consumers Power Company and other future participants will assist Crawford County police agencies by using their radio-equipped vehicles to report emergencies involving children.

Eyes and Ears stickers will be placed on Company vehicles, thus identifying the vehicle as a safe place for children in danger. If a child in need of assistance approaches the vehicle, the employee will radio the Company dispatcher, who in turn will contact the local Crawford County Sheriff's Department. Though children are usually taught to stay away from strangers and strange vehicles, the Crawford County Sheriff's Department is currently going to schools in Crawford County and presenting the Eyes and Ears Program to assure the children that vehicles with Eyes and Ears emblems will provide help.

Consumers Power Company also has initiated the Eyes and Ears Program in Kalamazoo, Pontiac, Flint, Bay City and Midland; however, the idea for the program came from Detroit Edison and Michigan Consolidated Gas Company. Those utilities initiated an Eyes and Ears arrangement with the Detroit Police Department after several incidents occurred involving young children on their way to and from school.

Consumers Power Company is Michigan's largest utility serving almost six million of the state's nine million residents in 67 of the 68 lower peninsula counties.

EYES AND EARS PROGRAM — The Eyes and Ears emblem on the Consumers Power truck lets children know they can find help. To the right of the emblem are Bud Detmer, Consumers Power crewman, and Len Hoffman, Consumers Community Services Director. To the left of the emblem are Sheriff Dept. Corporal Larry Akers, in charge of youth safety program, Shelley Hubbard, 4-H assistant director, and Sheriff Harold Hatfield.

Many older people may have a serious drug problem that can threaten their health, their lives and their ability to live independently.

"The unintentional or intentional misuse of drugs legally prescribed by health professionals is the other drug problem, which while different from drug abuse, still presents a serious threat to people's health," said Health and Human Services Assistant Secretary Robert Windom, M.D.

"While many people are familiar with the drug problems of younger adults, few are aware of the growing drug problem among older people," said Food and Drug Administration Commissioner Frank E. Young, M.D., Ph.D.

Windom said that with 1.6 billion prescriptions being dispensed annually — an average of 7.5 prescriptions per person — misuse has become an increasingly alarming health problem.

Two of every three visits to a doctor results in a prescription, according to him, with the average physician writing 8,000 prescriptions a year.

Although patients of all ages may have problems with medicine misuse, Windom said a study just released indicated older adults were particularly vulnerable for a number of reasons. Among these reasons: older people consume 400 million prescriptions annually.

Windom outlined the effects of drug misuse among the older population, citing studies that indicated:

- People over 65 fill twice as many prescriptions as younger people.
- People over 60 account for 40 percent of all adverse drug reactions.
- One-sixth of all hospital admissions for patients over age 70 result from adverse drug reactions.
- Nearly 25 percent of older people's hospital admissions are due to problems with taking prescriptions incorrectly.
- Some 23 percent of

Misuse of Drugs Hurts Older Persons

nursing home admissions are the result of older people being unable to take their medicines properly.

A new study identified the six main factors that contribute to drug misuse among older Americans. Poor communication between older patients and their health care providers — including doctors, pharmacists and nurses — was a key factor.

Older patients may be hesitant to ask questions of their physicians or pharmacists, for fear of "bothering" them.

Other contributing factors included low awareness of the potentially harmful effects of taking more than one prescription at a time and low awareness that a drug's effects can be magnified or reduced in older bodies.

In order to help older people use their medicines safely, Young said health care providers, older patients and their caregivers, and the health care system need to work together to address each of these factors.

A free brochure that offers advice for older patients on the safe use of medicines is available by sending a large self-addressed, stamped envelope to NCPIE, 666 11th Street, N.W., Suite 810, Washington, D.C. 20001.

Single copies of the new NCPIE study, "Priorities and Approaches for Improving Prescription Medicine Use by Older Americans," are available to health care organization by writing NCPIE at the above address.

With professional basketball featuring nicknames such as THE BRUISE BROTHERS, CHOCOLATE THUNDER, and the HUMAN HIGHLIGHT FILM, is it any wonder other levels of hoop have spawned strange nicknames.

In Grayling, over the last ten years, some odd nicknames have been used on the round-ball court. Nicknames like CHROME DOME, SHOES, THUNDER THIGHS, KUCHENBRAU, ROCKET, JET, IGGY, BIRDMAN, STUMPY, ONE HALF OF THE TWIN TOWERS, ICE, AND C. CHECKERS.

Common nicknames just don't seem to be able to do the job. For instance, when the GHS Alumni used to play the Viking varsity team for practice, a 19-year-old college student might be referred to as an "old-timer." The next day, a 29-year-old playing with 35 year olds is called "The Kid" and he has to retrieve errant balls because he's the youngest one around.

Some of the fall color is gone but the tamaracks may be at their brightest right about now.

Grayling has quite a few places where the tamarack colors stand out — around the south shore of Stump Lake or the Millpond, on M-93, on North Down River Road, at the end of Robert's Road.

The tamarack (Larix laricina) is a different sort of tree to start with because all the other conifers in Michigan, such as the pines, spruces, hemlocks, and cedars, usually keep their needle or scale-like leaves for several years. The tamarack sheds its needles every fall.

Each spring the tamarack grows new leaves and the needles are such a bright green they stand out even among all the fresh green spring colors. But what makes the tamarack special to some residents is that display of gold or yellow after much of the bright fall colors have left.

Sunday night the Barksdale Theatre from Virginia brought a wonderful show to the Weyerhaeuser Performing Artists Series at KCC.

Quite a few Crawford County residents attended the musical "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat" and I think more people will find out about the great shows the Series brings to KCC. One of the shows this spring features the Lettermen.

Walking the Sandy Trails

By Susan Boehner Grayling

Sandy crossroads? Boot camp? I keep the great lakes in my mind's eye and see this land as a sandy peninsula, almost an island, with squalls rolling in and out of town like the old D & M train or like rumored semis hauling silver tanks of nuclear waste on the interstate.

Today, the sand beneath my feet has a memory. It holds prints so the back trails behind Fick's oil tanks are like yesterday's calendar scrawled with past events: splayed tracks of a raccoon or skunk, tiny "human handprints" of an opossum, clusters of minute pads which are probably squirrels', and some tracings where leaves have blown across the trail. Even the deer tread delicately, leaving little fawn V's, but then the turning leaves remind me that many whitetail deer don't live to old age.

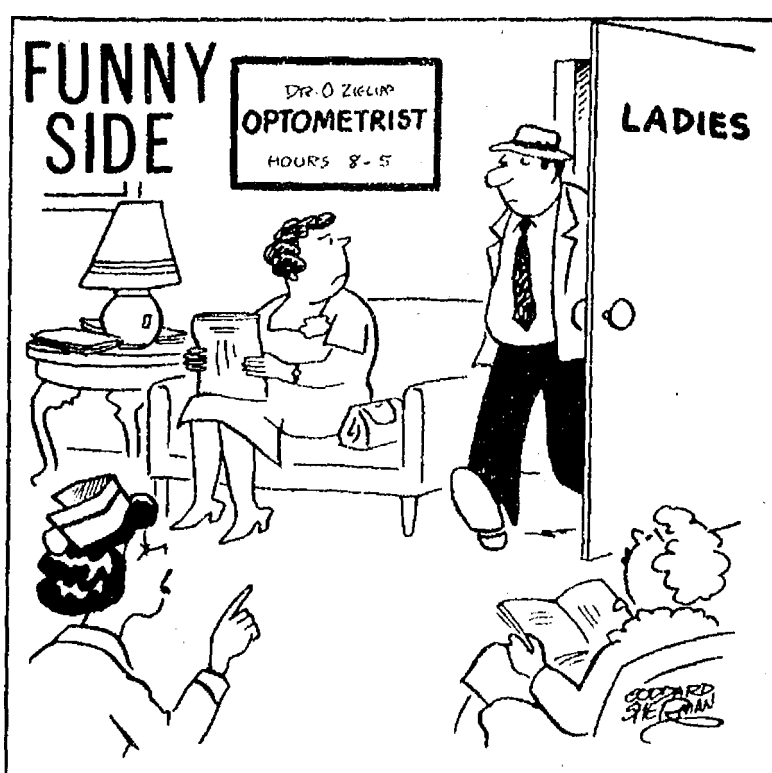

The large, less personal prints are man's, a set of running shoes going my way: variable soles of shock-absorbent lines and circles — technology at war with gravity. Heel, toe, heel, toe, for a moment I match my step with the runner's, measure his stride, reckon how fast he's running, how long his legs are, and leave behind my walking print traversing his.

What I see, my dog sniffs, devouring the sandy trail with his nose. I should know as much about yesterdays as he does; he's sniffing midnight's stew of blind shrews and dried toads, last summer's dead flies, maybe even the runner's drops of sweat — all the diets and excrements of the night. To have a dog's nose would be some kind of purgatory! Today, even the sky is brushed with a gritty print, faded white cross-hatching on this intense blue morning above the blazing maples and aspen. Grayling's breath of good air like a glass of clear water makes small things seem important — a cluster of asters, the last frayed edge of summer, is strongly lavender in the dry grass and brown curling ferns.

Sand along the railroad tracks is heaped like a child's sandbox. Here my foot sinks too deep for prints. To look down the open tracks is a lesson in perspective, two ways out of town. Making the loop south, I head toward Pollack bridge and the river, thinking how this flat land gets pockmarked with tank tracks, three wheelers, and other off-road vehicles. Too many people have forgotten the delight of using their legs. A favorite footpath becomes a road by late summer, and even the trees begin to look shabby and blighted, one imagines, from exhaust. There's the familiar distant hum of cars on 72, and somewhere the whine of a helicopter — our natural habitat dwindles and with it, our peace of mind.

Still, down by the AuSable river as I pause to watch single colored leaves float by, a great blue heron rises from some dead-fallen trees, quietly glides past me upstream, its phantom wings whispering solitude.

Wayne Solvency Proposal Seeks $26.5 Million in New Funds

By Warren M. Hoyt
Michigan Press Association

A legislative package to infuse Wayne County with $26.5 million in new revenues, including additional lottery funds, while unloading some costs for indigent health care to deal with what some have called a fiscal emergency, was outlined to the Legislature recently by County Executive Edward McNamara.

McNamara promoted the plan in a luncheon meeting with legislators from the county, but said he is not wedded to its specifics and asked for any other suggestions to help the county over its fiscal problems.

The county's fiscal year ends December 31, and McNamara's proposed budget for the new year requires $11 million more in revenues. The county also has about $110-$130 million in short term debts to the state, which officials intend to repay through bonds.

The package includes:
—$18 million from a 5 percent surcharge on lottery winnings and a third Lotto game. Another $16 million raised by that plan would be distributed to counties around the state. Currently, the School Aid Fund gets all lottery profits.
—$6 million with a 30 percent surcharge on airport parking.
—A $2.5 million by raising circuit court fees.

A revision of the indigent health care program, which is costing the county about $22.5 million a year, would cap its costs at $22.5 million and shift up to $16.5 million to the federal government.

State costs are expected to remain unchanged. The new program would contract with hospitals and other providers to guarantee care for general assistance recipients at specified per capita costs, instead of the county having to simply cover overruns for whatever charges are submitted by poor persons.

A change in Medicaid eligibility would shift health care costs for other low-income persons, who are not on GA, to the federal government. A private agency would authorize lengths of stays in hospitals.

That proposal is expected to be well-received in the Senate, where Republicans had proposed similar plans for turning administration of Medicaid programs to private entities.

Rep. James Kosteva (D-Canton) had introduced bills (HB 5042 and HB 5043) providing lower airport parking surcharges and including airport-based companies in the property tax, and another measure providing a new hotel tax.

ECONOMIES PROMPT STATES TO RAISE TAXES, CURB SPENDING

The dollar amount of taxes raised by state governments in 1987 was the highest since the recession year of 1983, even though state spending is increasing at the smallest rate since the recession, according to a national survey.

The survey by the National Governors' Association and the National Association of State Budget Officers showed 33 states raising taxes by $6.6 billion to shore up budgets hurt by a weakening economy.

With six other states cutting taxes by $500 million, the net $6.1 billion increase was surpassed only by the $7.4 billion raised with tax increases in 38 states in 1983. Meanwhile, the 1987-88 budgets for the states will grow 1.1 percent, after adjusting for inflation.

Michigan was one of 17 states showing no real growth.

NASBO Executive Director Gerald Miller said small budget increases and the various tax changes "illustrate the result of slow-to-moderate growth of the national economy."

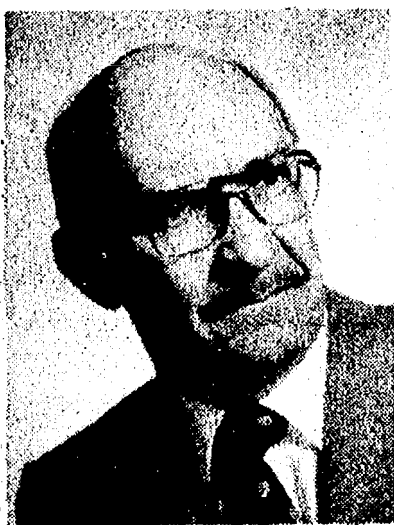

The survey showed that in 1986-87, 24 states cut $3 billion from the budgets they had enacted due to depressed revenues. The survey said the number and size is unusually high for a nonrecession year.

The survey showed only eight states projecting year-end budget balances of at least 5 percent, the benchmark used to determine a healthy financial condition.

Republican Harmony is Elusive

by Richard Millman

WHEN VICE PRESIDENT George Bush formally entered the race for president earlier this month, he emphasized the need for a "new harmony" in the nation.

"I mean to stand for a new harmony, a greater tolerance and a renewed recognition that this country is and always has been a partnership," Mr. Bush proclaimed in his announcement.

That's a lofty goal, and nobody with any reason would oppose it. Mr. Bush perhaps should start within his own party, however, and a good jumping off place would be in Michigan.

AMONG MICHIGAN Republicans these days, there is a distinct lack of harmony, and the Bush forces are at the center of it.

For example, the Vice President dropped into the state a while back to meet a few voters, make a couple of speeches and raise a few bucks, and had some rather testy comments about the way Michigan Republicans are conducting their affairs.

He doesn't like the way Michigan delegates to the presidential nominating conventions next year will be selected, for one thing. Mr. Bush would prefer a statewide primary, similar to the one in which he defeated Ronald Reagan when they were both aspiring presidential candidates here in Michigan back in 1980.

BUT MICHIGAN Republicans don't have a statewide primary for 1988. Instead the party leadership has installed a drawn-out system of delegate selection by state convention, to be held next January. The problem for Mr. Bush is that the system is now controlled by Republicans more favorable to other candidates than to him.

"The logical thing would have been to stay with a system that works, not go to some nutty system that has been a tremendous strain on the party and on everybody else," Mr. Bush said on his recent trip to Michigan. Along with the same line, he also said: "I don't like Kamikaze warfare — coming in to disrupt the party, and then leave it in a shambles."

THE PROBLEM with these comments is that they come at the wrong time. Mr. Bush and his supporters in Michigan didn't find anything wrong with the Michigan delegate-selection system early in the game; as a matter of fact the new system was adopted by the state party back a couple of years ago when the apparatus was controlled by Bush supporters.

What happened was that backers of Pat Robertson and Jack Kemp moved in to elect more precinct delegates, and then more state delegates, than the Bush backers, and the formal system moved into anti-Bush hands.

If Bush people had been successful — as they expected to be — in dominating the delegate selection system, then there would not have been the same sort of criticism as the Vice President now levels.

AS FOR "KAMIKAZE warfare" within the Michigan Republican party, that remains to be seen.

If the new pro-Robertson Republicans now dominating the state party structure prove to be merely single-issue partisans, who are active for the immediate purpose of nominating Pat Robertson and then drop out of the political process, there is merit in Mr. Bush's criticism.

But if these new activists continue their dedication and political work, then they are not Kamikaze politicians at all but rather a new wave of Michigan Republicans who have every right to enter the party of their choice, get active, and control the system if they can.

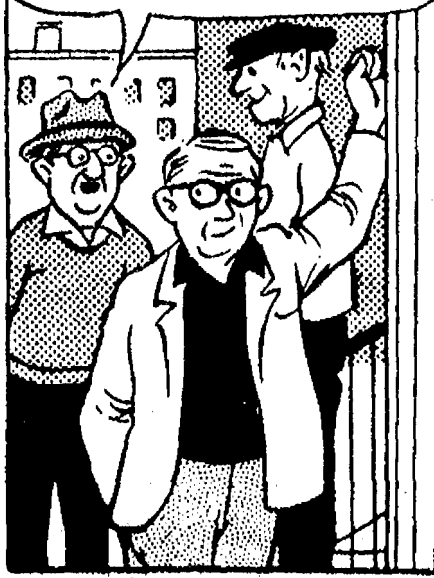

THE ANSWER, THEN, is simple for the Bush brand of Michigan Republicanism, usually considered to be of the moderate, or William Milliken variety.

The answer, then, is for the Bush backers to get more votes than the Robertson backers — in the precincts, in county conventions, in state conventions and eventually at the ballot box.

One necessary ability in successful politics is the ability to count. In Michigan, the newly-active Robertson Republicans learned how to do that. The Bush backers apparently forgot how, at least temporarily.

Paper Diapers Are Not Disposable

Dear Ecology:

A few years ago the state of Michigan put into action a law that requires a return on bottles and cans. In this short period of time the state has reduced the debris tremendously.

On the other hand the state allows for the use of paper diapers.

Number one, paper diapers are not disposable, as the manufacture claims. They are made up of polypropylene and wood fibers, they can take as long as 500 years to decompose in a landfill.

We find the diapers in our parks, campsites, beaches, etc. and also in our public dump sites. Human excretion is to be handled in a professional manner. This is why we have sanitary sewer systems, and no longer use outdoor toilets. People also try to flush these diapers down the toilet, where they end up at the sanitary sewer systems, and cause problems with the pumps and other equipment.

There is nothing more unpleasant, than picking up a soiled diaper in my yard that a dog has torn from a trash bag down the street.

When you multiply the thousands of babies born each year, by the thousands of diapers they use each year, you get millions. Where will these diapers be in 20 years from now when our landfills are full?

Worse yet, now that Rhode Island landfills are full, they truck their garbage to Penn. and Michigan landfills.

If you are as concerned about this matter as I am, please mail me your signature, along with as many more as you can gather.

I have begun a petition to present to our state representatives.

Thank you,
Dean Johnston

Cutting Fire Wood

By Don Geiss

A friend told us that cutting our own fire wood would be much cheaper than buying it and we fell for that story "hook, line and sinker."

Purchasing the chainsaw was the first traumatic experience because the prices and brands can be very confusing to the amateur. Unfortunately the first one we purchased would only run for a single tank of gas and then would not start again until we changed the spark plug. Our friend told us to use a hotter running plug. Another investment. That didn't work either.

A second chainsaw was purchased on the advice of a friend who is a logger. That one worked to perfection but then it cost considerably more than the first one.

We were not told about the need for a vehicle with four wheel drive to haul the wood out of the forest. It always appeared to us before getting into the cutting business that wood was plentiful right at the edge of the road. Not so, we discovered because most of that material is jack pine and not wood for heating. It is necessary to prowl deep into the forest to get the wood.

With the truck and a chainsaw, we headed to the source full of ambition. Not too long after we began cutting, sore muscles and an aching back forced us to halt for the day. Our stay was enough to cause us to make a list of other things that were needed to really be prepared for the field. It included a sharpening file, filing guide, sweatbands, leather gloves, water bottle, wedges and a small sledge hammer.

The second trip out ended in another want list. That one included a small jack, extra spark plugs, and a flat file for cutting down the depth teeth.

It was decided early in the game that it would be necessary to cut enough wood to be two years ahead. That would allow plenty of time for the wood to season.

That ambition added up to every weekend, all summer long that first year. To be honest it was the only year that we cut our own wood. We were never quite brave enough to total up the cost of equipment and determine how much each face cord cost. It must have averaged at least double what we are now paying and that does not include the labor, time and misery of aching muscles.

When the men come to deliver the wood, now, we may have to take out a small loan to pay them but even with the interest it still puts us ahead of the do-it-yourselfers.

We still put the chainsaw to use when a tree falls across the road or a limb falls near the edge of the road. Most of the time though it lies in its case suffering the fate of many good instruments that have been purchased but would be lumber for the

In spite of the vigorous efforts of our local physicians, influenza has slightly gained during the past week, when the number of cases in the city raised from about 35 to 77. Eight new cases were reported Tuesday. The city has been placed under strict quarantine and the local health board has given Health Officer John Harrington complete authority to enforce any regulations he may deem necessary. Mrs. S.N. Insley and the Sisters of Mercy Hospital have been making daily calls on all patients instructing those who are caring for them, just what to do, and Mrs. L.J. Kraus and Mrs. A.J. Joseph, local defense nurses, have been doing heroic work and have handled some of the most severe cases in the city.

Flu masks, to aid in preventing the spread of influenza, are being worn by most all of the clerks in the local stores, markets and post office, and also news and messenger boys.

Hickey Joins GMAC Through Co-Op Program

Mike Hickey, an Oakland University finance major from Grayling, is spending the fall working for GMAC in a cooperative education program.

Students spend their junior and senior years alternating work and study semesters and gain real world job experience in their major fields. Studies have shown that many employers prefer to hire full-time employees who have gained work experience prior to graduation.

Vikings Rip Boyne 61-25, Cheboygan Ends Win Streak

Sports

Grayling romped over Boyne City 61-25 for their 10th win last week but lost to Cheboygan 61-43 for their third loss.

The Vikings scored the most points of the year against Boyne.

"We lead 14-4 after the first quarter and never looked back," said Viking coach Howard Lehti. "We shot well from the outside and made the inside shots as well. We shot 57 percent for the night."

Melanie Ojala scored 20 points and had 8 rebounds. Lori Gust scored 12 with 6 rebounds. A.J. Pratt scored 7, Jenny Money scored 6, Deanna Phelps 5, Patty Tremblay scored 5 with 8 rebounds, Carrie Trudgeon scored 4 with 8 assists, Laurie Goss scored 1, and Linda Goodale scored 1.

Against Cheboygan, Dembrowski, the league's leading scorer, and Yankoviak, the league's 3rd leading scorer, scored 47 points.

"How those two seniors play is how Cheboygan goes," said Lehti. "It was frustrating because we knew what they're doing and the ball still went in for them. We knew Cheboygan relies on the outside shot, we were right in their face and they still shot the eyes out of the basket."

Cheboygan shot 63 percent and most of the attempts were not inside shots.

"If Cheboygan plays that way, they will beat Gaylord," Lehti said about a match-up with Gaylord, 10-0, meeting Cheboygan, 9-1 in the league.

Grayling is in 3rd place in the league at 7-3. The Vikings are 10-3 overall.

Against Cheboygan, Ojala scored 11, Trudgeon 8, Tremblay 7, Money 6, Pratt 5, Phelps 3, Gust 2, Goodale 1. Gust had 9 rebounds.

The Vikings played Gaylord at home Tuesday night and face Roscommon this Thursday.

Charlevoix's Big Plays Nip Vikings 32-24

Grayling pounded Charlevoix Friday night, pushed them all over the field, but the Vikings got burned on five big plays and lost 32-24.

"Our offense played the best it has all year long," said Viking head coach Don Stowers. "We stuffed it to them right from the start."

Grayling grinded out a drive on their first possession, moving down the field to score 6. The two-point conversion was stopped. The Vikings stopped Charlevoix after the kick-off and recovered a fumble. With a 6-0 lead, Grayling went at them with a pass. It bounced off a Viking and a Charlevoix player picked it off and raced for a touchdown. The extra-point kick was good.

Grayling shook that off and again used their muscle driving for a score. The two-point try was stopped again leaving the score 12-7.

Grayling protected the lead until two minutes to go in the half. The Vikings went into a prevent defense but Charlevoix still got a pass behind Grayling defenders for a long score. The half ended with Charlevoix's two big plays outscoring Grayling's hard work 13-12.

At the start of the second half, the Vikings again asserted their strength driving for their 3rd score to go ahead 18-13.

Charlevoix got good field position after the kick and sprung a 45-yard run off a trap play to lead 20-18.

In the fourth quarter Grayling again drove for a score to go ahead 24-20. Charlevoix added a long touchdown pass and another long touchdown run off a trap play to win.

Rusty Argue ground out 98 yards on 20 carries and scored a touchdown on a 9-yard run. Jeff Wolcott scored two touchdowns on two-yard dives and rushed for 80 yards on 16 carries. Marty Jung carried 10 times for 48 yards. He also passed for 75 yards including a 34-yard touchdown pass to Jeff Palmer.

Stowers said center Jayson Welser and tackles Ted Baynham and Brian Kernstock had exceptional games and almost owned the guys lining up across from them.

"I am proud of the way we kept knocking them off the ball," he said.

Stowers said the defense didn't come up with any exceptional efforts and the Grayling kick-off coverage hurt the team. On five kick-offs the Vikings couldn't stop Charlevoix from getting good field position.

SPORTS FANS!

I Bet You Didn't Know

Brought To You By Mike Fortino Sales Representative

Among the most unusual things that ever happened in college football were the 2 so-called "Carbon Copy Games" once played by Army and Navy...Those 2 games — played a year apart in 1910 and 1911 — were amazingly identical in almost every way...For example, both games ended with the same score, Navy 3, Army 0...The only scoring in each game was by the same man, Jack Dalton of Navy...He won both games the same way with a field goal — and in both years his winning field goals were kicked from the exact same spot on the field...Army and Navy defied the odds by playing 2 consecutive games that were so similar.

Which college has played in the most post-season bowl games in history?...Answer is Alabama which has played in a total of 39.

Of all the teams in the National Football League, which one has played in the Super Bowl the most times?...Two teams are tied for this honor...Both the Dallas Cowboys and Miami Dolphins have each played in 5 Super Bowls to set the record.

I bet you didn't know... Mike Fortino. He is just one of our enthusiastic young salespeople, who believe it or not, now has four years experience in automotive sales. Mike has been married to the former Kelly Scheer for nine years. Kelly and Mike have two daughters, Amanda (6) and Anna (3), and live in Grayling. He also has a bachelor's degree from Ferris State and his hobbies include hunting, fishing, and all sports. Come see Mike if you would like to be treated respectfully on your next car deal. He can make car buying fun!

GHS Players To Present Neil Simon Comedy

On November 6th and 7th, the Grayling High School Players will be presenting the 1969 comedy production by Neil Simon, "The Last of the Red Hot Lovers."

Barney Cashman, played by James Montoya, is a forty-seven year old who tries to join the sexual revolution. He is a gentle, sober man who has a very dedicated wife and has absolutely no experience in adultery. Giving himself three chances to meet his own demands, he tries three different women.

The first time, he meets up with Elaine Navazio (Stacy Rosin). She is a flaunting sexist who likes cigarettes, whiskey, and husbands other than her own. However, Barney isn't prepared for her compulsions, especially in his mother's apartment. His second attempt is with a weird wouldbe actress friend, Bobbi Michele (Dawn Elekonich). Unfortunately, in the end, she turns out to be madder than the Hatter. Having only one more chance, he turns to his wife's best friend Jeanette Fisher (Heather Pelton). She is not only very depressed, but also a sternly driven moralist who, just recently, found out her own husband cheated on her. The production will be held at 8:00 p.m. in the Joseph P. Stripe Auditorium in the High School.

Elementary Notes

They had lots of things in the ambulance. We saw the ambulance in the back of the school. It came to visit us because one of the students in our class has a dad that works in the ambulances. We talked to them about what you use the stuff for and we went in the ambulance. He came in to get us. He showed us stuff that they use on people when they get hurt. He gave us the phone number of the ambulance. He showed us the front of the ambulance where they drive it. He came to get all the first graders.

It was interesting to see some kind of a tube that helped you breathe. It hooked on to your nostrils. One thing helped keep your neck straight. Dictated by Jodi Kammer, Mrs. Larson's first grade.

If we have a second biography we might read our book report to the whole class.

A biography is telling or history of people's life. We are reading Jefferson Davis and Abraham Lincoln. By Nicole Parker and Charlie Kucharek, Mrs. Fleming's fifth grade.

In our classroom we have lots of posters of Halloween things. Our teacher is nice. She reads us stories everyday. She's reading about witches. In gym class, today we played "take the sausage." It is played by running around and taking red flags out of other people's pockets. In music class we sing Halloween songs. And in library we get to pick all kinds of good books. I picked a book on different kinds of animals. On Monday and Tuesday when she is reading a story we do art work. We color pictures of scarecrows and we made a haunted house by cutting it out and paste it on a piece of paper. Then at the end of the day, I'm on the bus for an hour. Our bus driver is funny and nice. By Derick Liberty, Miss Johnson's third grade.

I like to read. It's fun. We have a reading group. I like my reading group. We read mostly but sometimes we make some pictures. We are reading about a rabbit and a panda bear, Mack and Buffy. Sometimes when Mack gets kind of lost, Buffy helps him. Dictated by Eric Thompson, Mrs. Yost's first grade.

The only thing I can think of is worms. They need soil and dark places and they're wet and slimy. They crawl under the soil so they don't dry out. They make the roots grow by making holes in the soil. We learned this in science in Mrs. McEvers' class. By Traci Dana, Mrs. McEvers' third grade.

We are reading biographies in Mrs. Fleming's class and then we are going to do a book report. We started two weeks ago in reading class. We started reading in class after we got our books from the library. We could go with our friends anywhere in the classroom and read our biography books. We're still reading them.

We're going to write a book report on whatever we are reading. We are just going to hand them in and she will check them. And when we get them back, we'll take them home to show our parents.

Ex-Con Talks To Teens In New Film

"Twice Pardoned," a new film presentation created especially for teenagers, examines the destructive ways in which many young people try to cope with the pains and pressures of growing up. It will be shown at 6 p.m. Nov. 1 and Nov. 8 at Heritage Baptist Church currently meeting in the Grayling High School Band room, US-27 North.

In this recent release from Focus on the Family Films, ex-con Harold Morris tells his incredible life story and urges teenagers to avoid the snares — alcohol, drugs, illicit sex and wrong associations — that led to his imprisonment.

Winter Car Care

Change Oil Before Cold Weather Starts

Most owner's manuals state that 5-W-30 can be used if the outside temperature does not exceed 60 degrees and should be used if the temperature is below zero degrees.

Because SAE 5-W-30 has a lower viscosity level than SAE 10W-30, the oil is thinner and less likely to become thick and gluey when temperatures drop, thus ensuring that engine parts can move freely.

To prepare for the height of winter, drivers should change oil in November or December.

The owner's manual or marks on the engine oil-filler cap should state which oil the manufacturer recom-

Along with a good battery and recent tuneup, the correct engine oil also can help ensure quick vehicle starts this winter, reports AAA Michigan.

The Big Three U.S. automakers now recommend SAE 5W-30 oil for winter use in most models to improve starting, cold-weather performance and fuel economy.

'LIQUID DIET' ESSENTIAL FOR WINTERIZING CARS

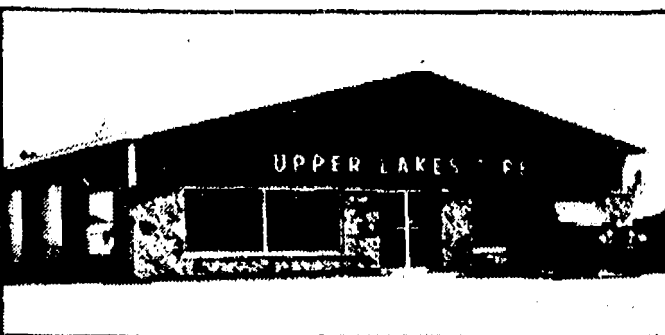

Throughout the year and especially in winter, vehicles need special attention and a "liquid diet" to keep them operating efficiently. By checking the six fluid levels listed below before winter arrives, motorists can help ensure their vehicles will be prepared properly for cold-weather operation. Check owner's manual for fluid-level inspection directions. The key fluids include:

- Antifreeze—Use hydrometer to check strength of antifreeze in radiator. Proper mix is 50 percent water and 50 percent antifreeze. Mixture should be good for up to 37 degrees below zero.
- Motor Oil—Use dipstick to check oil and add when fluid reaches the add mark. Use SAE 5W-30 oil to improve fuel economy and cold-weather performance.
- Brake Fluid—Fluid level should be within one-quarter inch of the top of the reservoir.
- Power Steering Fluid—Check indicator stick and, if needed, add slowly to avoid overfilling.
- Automatic Transmission Fluid—Check with indicator stick generally located behind engine on passenger side. The car should be parked on a level grade with the engine running.
- Windshield Washer Solvent—Keep the reservoir filled with solvent.

Suggestions for getting a head start on cold weather car care

It's a statistical fact: Every year tens of thousands of motorists are caught unprepared for the first cold weather. It can be time-consuming and expensive trying to take care of anti-freeze, battery or snow tires at the last minute, when everyone else in the neighborhood is rushing to do the same thing.

To help car owners get ahead of the game, Car Care Council offers a "stitch in time" checklist:

1) Cooling System: If it hasn't been done in a while, flush it out with a good chemical cleaner and install fresh anti-freeze. Note: Use in proper proportion. Pure antifreeze (ethylene glycol) does not cool or protect as well as the proper mixture prescribed on the container.

Check connections, belts, hoses, pressure cap and thermostat.

2) Battery and Electrical System: If your battery is over a few years old, have it checked. Cold weather is hard on batteries. Be sure connections are clean and tight. Corroded or loose connections can give the symptoms of a weak or dead battery.

3) Engine: Is it time for a tune-up? Faulty wiring, worn spark plugs, a sticking choke or emission control devices that need attention all can lead to hard starting. A diagnostic check-up of the engine can be a good pre-winter investment.

4) Oil and Filter: Dirty oil can give you trouble in the winter. Now's the time to change it. Change the oil filter, too. Your car may have several other filters, including the fuel, air and transmission filters, that need changing at this time.

(The transmission filter is changed when transmission fluid is changed, as a periodic maintenance procedure.)

5) Tires: For every 10° of temperature drop, your tire pressure decreases by one pound. Obviously, if you haven't checked tire pressure since last summer, they're likely to be several pounds under-inflated.

Periodic rotating of tires (putting them on different locations on the car for more even wear), wheel alignment and balancing all contribute to longer tire life.

6) Body and Paint: Be sure to give the car a good protective coating of wax before the weather turns nasty. This is critical in areas where salt is used for snow removal.

Whether you're a "do-it-yourselfer" or a patron of the professional repairman, there's a lot to be said for getting the car care chores out of the way before severe weather arrives.

30 Minutes Now Can Insure Carefree Winter Driving

Motorists who invest 30 minutes now in a simple do-it-yourself preventive car maintenance program can help ensure trouble-free driving all winter, reports AAA Michigan.

By performing a 12-point "Winter Winners" checklist, motorists can steer clear of most problems and expensive repairs.

"The checklist is simple to follow for anyone who can drive a car," stated Robert Teller, AAA Michigan Emergency Road Service manager. "The only required items are the car's owner's manual, a tire pressure gauge, screwdriver, hydrometer and baking soda."

Last year, more than 6,500 cars were inspected at 21 statewide AAA Car Care Clinics. AAA Michigan representatives discovered that tire pressures and antifreeze levels were the most neglected items.

Tires should be checked regularly, especially in winter when tire pressures drop from the cold. Because tire treads tend to squeeze together and lose traction, owners should maintain the maximum tire pressure recommended on each tire's sidewall.

Antifreeze levels and strength were deficient on 36 percent of those vehicles checked. A 50/50 mixture of water and antifreeze is recommended in Michigan to ensure protection to 37 degrees below zero.

By understanding and performing the following "Winter Winners" check, car owners can easily be ready for winter.

• Tires — Check pressure with a gauge for correct inflation and inspect tread wear on all tires, including the spare.

• Antifreeze — Use a hydrometer to check the antifreeze strength in the radiator. Antifreeze can be checked in the overflow tanks on some cars.

• Motor Oil — Use dipstick to check and add oil when fluid reaches the add mark. Check owner's manual for exact intervals between changes and for oil viscosity. Most suggest SAE 5W-30 oil in winter to improve fuel economy and cold-weather performance.

• Brake Fluid — Keep the level within a one-quarter inch of the top of the reservoir. Use a screwdriver to pry off the chamber's cover clips. New models have a translucent reservoir and can be checked visually.

• Power Steering Fluid — Check indicator stick and if fluid is needed, add slowly to avoid overflow.

• Automatic Transmission Fluid — Check with indicator stick usually located behind engine on passenger side. The car should be parked on a level grade with the engine running.

• Hoses and Belts — Check for cracks and fraying and be sure hoses are firmly in place. Replace as needed. Test tension by pressing on the middle of each belt. If a belt gives more than 1 to 1½ inches, tighten or replace.

• Lights, Signals — Activate to make sure they work.

• Air Filter — Hold the air filter up to the sun or next to a light. If you can't see through it, replace it.

• Batter Terminals and Cables — Use a baking soda and water solution to clean battery terminal and cables, but do not splash any on car's painted surfaces. If the battery is not maintenance-free, check to make sure water is at the correct level.

• Windshield Washer Fluid — Keep the reservoir filled with solvent.

• Windshield Wipers — Be sure wipers are in good working order. Replace when they begin leaving streaks and skipping spots.

AuSable Quilt Guild Members Attend River Workshop Retreat

It takes special friendship to spend two full days and a night together at a cabin deep in the woods. The AuSable Quilters did just that last week, when they met for a river retreat workshop.

Loretta Hassan, a river resident, along with Cheboygan members Winnie Riddle, Carolyn Churchill and Patti Mitchell planned the occasion. Making quilted vests, complete with a pieced logo on the back, was the project to be accomplished. The quilters will now have their own group identity when they travel to quilt shows, seminars and workshops.

Not the first priority, but most certainly the second, was the marvelous food and drink planned by the committee. Sewing machines hummed, scissors worked overtime and fingers labored for the shared love of quilting.

Way back in August the guild members met at Ruth Steffe's for a day of "from scratch fabric dyeing" with able guidance from Amy Neubacher, a quilting professional from Gaylord. Fabric design with acrylic paints was another feature of the day. It was indeed similar to finger painting. Creativity and imagination reigned. Barbara Porter, Ruth Steffe and Winnie Riddle attended a fall seminar on Beaver Island with Marston and Cunningham, renowned professional quilters. It was a spirited session of dedicated people from many different places, reported Jane Adams, guild member.

The American Legion Auxiliary Unit 106 of Grayling would like to announce the officers for this year, and also to let our members know what we have planned for our future events. Our new officers are: Roselyn Johnson-President, Kelli Alimanti-1st Vice President, Galah Isenhauer-2nd Vice President, Mary Jane Young-Secretary, Lucille Tetting-Treasurer, Yelive Szkotnicki-Historian, Elita Bailey-Chaplain, Pat Gunton-Sgt. at Arms, Executive Board: Joan Rasmussen, Sharon Rubey, Goldie Livrance.

As some of our members have known that we almost lost our charter because of a lack of support last year. We as a unit must stick together and try to get things back on its feet this year. Kelli Alimanti deserves much credit for holding things together until we could make some decisions at our August meeting. We would also like to invite the members back into the unit, that thought we were folding up the year before. We miss you and need you to support us in the future. If there are any of you out there that would be interested in helping us with anything that we have going on, or if you have any suggestions for us to keep the unit running smoothly, will you please call one of us and let us know about it? Mary Jane's number is 348-6191 and Roselyn's number is 348-7756.

There will be a White Elephant-Bake Sale at the Legion Hall on October 31st, at 10 a.m. We will be working with the V.F.W. Auxiliary and the Moose Ladies on that day. We want to see all of you, as there will be a variety of things to purchase and we are working very hard to do things with other organizations as well as the public. All of you ladies can take your things down to the Legion Hall on Friday afternoon from 1:00 p.m. on. Each organization will have their own tables, so be sure to specify who you are supporting when you bring your items in.

Bits of Talk

Tom Pease of Denver, Colorado, spent some time in the Grayling area doing some bow-hunting. He called on some friends and said he still enjoys reading the Avalanche. Any of you out there wish to send him a message, let me know.

Bernie Dosch, Rita Schlehuber, Rose and Carl Hatfield all attended the Canadian Basketmakers Convention held at Harbourfront in Toronto. The Hatfields and Rita stayed for four days over the weekend of October 16 and Bernie stayed on for another two days for more lessons.

Les and Dena Hunter spent weekend before last in Flint where they attended the 50th golden wedding anniversary of his sister, Hazel and husband, Willard Haines on Saturday. On Sunday, they attended the 45th class reunion of Dena's class from Northern High School.

The unofficial "ambassador of Grayling," Jack Alef, of Grayling State Bank, was seen pouring coffee for the many people who came to accept their "thanks" on Thank You Grayling Day.

The Grayling Historical Museum at the Depot has been open on Saturdays during the fall and will continue to be open until the hunting season and Grayling's Christmas Walk on November 15. They would still appreciate any donations that you care to give during the winter in order to keep the heating bill paid. So keep them coming in and send them to Treasurer Marie Akers at 907 Plum St., Grayling, 49738.

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

The Gospel of John Part 9 Christ's Public Introduction

John the Baptist introduced Jesus as the Lamb of God. "The next day John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world." (John 1:29). The angel of the lord had said, "...thou shalt call his name JESUS: for he is come to save that which was lost." (Matt. 18:11). "Neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by his own blood he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us." (Heb. 9:12). "Who his own self bare our sins in his own body on the tree, that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness: by whose stripes ye were healed." (1 Peter 2:24).

John the Baptist also introduced Jesus Christ as the Son of God at His baptism. "And John bare record, saying, I saw the Spirit descending, and remaining on him, the same is he which baptizeth with the Holy Ghost. And I saw, and bare record that this is the Son of God." (John 1:32-33). John the Baptist bares witness to the deity of Jesus Christ as the Son of God based upon the witness of the words of God the Father, and the work of God the Holy Spirit.

In this first chapter of John's gospel we have the completed revelation of who our Lord Jesus Christ is. He is Lord because He is the eternal Son God. This speaks of His deity or divinity. If we believe He is Lord we must obey Him and worship Him as our God. He is Jesus our savior who came as the lamb of God to die upon the cross for our sins. If we believe this, we must trust Him as our savior and have faith in His death, burial and resurrection for our eternal salvation. The apostle John introduced the Christ as the Word of God in John 1:1-14. As the Word of God we must believe Him. He is the promised Messiah. His words created us and all the material universe around us. His words gave us spiritual birth and life also. (1 Peter 1:23). In His words we find the mystery and power of all life and existence. We must believe His Words. You cannot call Jesus Christ Lord and liar at the same time.

Believe the Word of God today. Trust the Lamb of God as your savior. Worship the Son of God and obey Him.

CHURCH DIRECTORY

STOP...AND LOOK

A child is born with imagination, with the ability to see the magic of the world around him. Yet, so much creativity—so much "seeing"—is often lost as we grow older and the complexities of life sweep over us.

When a child confronts nature, he isn't in a hurry. He takes time to study each blade of grass, to appreciate the colors of a butterfly, to marvel at a flower or the soft fur of a kitten.

We shouldn't lose this sensibility as we grow up. God created the world, but man has often abused it. So stop—once in awhile—and look, feel and listen. This is communion, restoration—like the spirit you find in your church or synagogue.

Have you been there lately?

The Deacon's Speakin'

Deacon Bob Nolan

Deacon Bob Nolan
Scripture Reference:
Matthew 5:1-12

Jesus, having withdrawn His disciples to one of the high hills in the region of Capernaum, instructs them. Matthew introduces this Gospel passage with the formula "He began to teach them," which is a traditional expression expressing the importance of what is going to be said. Jesus then announces the Beatitudes. "Our Lord, no doubt, frequently expressed them during His public ministry and He set the example by living in accordance with them.

To understand their meaning properly it is important to keep in mind the framework of the Gospel which puts everything in dependence on the living, present, active, Person of Jesus. They are more than a beautiful poem of spiritual wisdom. They express the Heart of Christ Who proposes a participation in His life to the heart of man.

We shall understand them well to the extent that we look at them in relationship to Jesus and that we begin to practice them in communion with Jesus. We are right when we judge that the Beatitudes call for a high form of morality and we might even say "they are beyond us." For this reason, we should not separate them from the living Christ. Christ, is very accessible, very near, and what He asks is not that we immediately reach the perfection of the Beatitudes, but that we try with His help to practice them as best we can day by day.

The true "poor" according to Christ is he who has learned to rely only on God. We must not reduce this "poverty" to economic and social distress. For there are people who are materially poor but who are not poor in spirit; and, on the other hand, economic poverty can make up a disorder which justice has the duty to remedy.

In the Beatitudes there is a question of profound poverty which refuses to make life consist in the pursuit of temporal goods. The man who is truly "poor" is above all that, and he knows that the true life and his destiny is situated in God. But let us not forget that we know well only what we have experienced. The truly "poor" person is he who by free choice has had the experience that he can rely on no one but God. This leads him to great human renunciations to incomparable riches. This is a contradiction for a person who does not have the faith, but in a true disciple of Christ it is sometimes a reality which no human words can express.

(2) Along the other streams in the Green Belt Zone, no buildings shall be constructed closer than one hundred fifty (150) feet from the water's edge, except that for every foot of ground elevation above the minimum grade level, one foot may be subtracted from the setback, to a minimum of one hundred (100) feet.

Locals and Visitors Frequent Patrons of Grayling Restaurant

By Don Geiss

The Grayling Restaurant holds the local record for the building used as a restaurant for the longest period of time and Joyce Bourrie has been in the business for the longest time.

In an earlier article it had been stated somewhat tentatively that another business and person held that record. It had been thought that the earliest exclusively restaurant used building was constructed about 1944, however, records show that the Grayling facility was built prior to 1939.

Of course there could be some question about the fact that it has burned out twice during its lifetime and thus is not really the same building. There might also be a question because previous owners had apartments upstairs. But if the writer is to be the judge, it is our decision that the business has been around and helping to make life more enjoyable for a record number of years and we will not "split hairs" about burning out or upstairs apartments.

Turning to the length of service as a restaurateur when the previous claim was made, service in another restaurant was not taken into account. Joyce Bourrie began her experience at Long's Restaurant in 1966 and switched to the Grayling Restaurant when she and husband Jim purchased it in 1970.

But let us begin about 1939 when Frank Roth and Joe Cinciala purchased the restaurant from Mrs. Barnett. As noted the families lived upstairs and jointly operated the establishment. In 1940 the building burned just prior to the date of the Winter Carnival. In those days trains brought the crowds to the carnival and it was essential for the satisfaction of the visitors that food establishments be available.

The Grayling Restaurant was not quite ready but as the story is told, the fire department brought in tables and chairs so that the customers could be seated.

In 1955 the building was totally destroyed by fire again and at this point Roth decided to leave town and begin his own operation at Whitehall.

The Grayling business burned in April but by August of 1955 it had been completely rebuilt by Cinciala. He passed away in 1969 and his spouse sold it to the Bourries in 1970. It is said that the Cinciala boys decided that they were too young to take it over. It should be noted, however, that all of the Cinciala children worked in the restaurant from the time that they were old enough to wait on the tables or clean up.

Prior to the time that Bourrie purchased the Grayling Restaurant he already owned and operated Long's Restaurant located where the Golden Touch Beauty Salon is now situated. For a short period Long's was open only at night and at one time was a House of Flavors ice cream store. The Bourries ran both establishments as restaurants for about one year and Long's was closed for business in 1973. In 1975 it became The Golden Touch.

During the early years of operation, the days were 16 hours long for the business. Often, Jim Bourrie recalls he would be involved until the "wee" hours of the morning. "Once a week," he said, "I came in to scrub the floor and wax it long after the 10 p.m. closing time." He noted that in those days there was no such thing as a no-wax floor.

At one point the hours were changed to accommodate the breakfast and lunch people but in May of 1987 it returned to a full day of operation. Son Garfield has taken over the 2 p.m. until 8 p.m. shift, Jim commented.

The restaurant has always had a full menu and continues to have specials for lunch and a different one for dinner. Joyce commented that there is always homemade soup. She noted that for their children too, work at the restaurant has been a family tradition. She said that at one time or another they all served a work apprenticeship there.

The business has been one well patronized by local residents as is most noticeable at breakfast and the morning coffee hour. It is also heavily patronized by visitors, Jim commented. He surveyed the house while we were interviewing and picked out the many strangers present. He observed that the business depends on repeat tourist patrons. He noted that the location lends itself well to people from distant points meeting there. He estimated that from 60 to 70 percent of the business is from visitors.

Among the notables have been Charles Kuralt of the "On the Road" CBS News fame. Governor William Milliken also has patronized the restaurant, Jim said.

Many local functions have been catered over the years and the Bourries continue to offer their services in that manner for groups of 50 to 60 people.

The restaurant presently employs 21 people, Jim said. Open hours now are from 6 a.m. until 8 p.m. Monday through Saturday and from 6 a.m. until 3 p.m. on Sunday.

The Grayling Restaurant is not only a long standing business in the area but it is safe to say it is a dependable fixture. It is a part of the very fabric of the business community built upon the foundation of quality and service.

The Bourries noted that they are not native to Grayling as many people think but rather came here in 1957. Jim's interest in the restaurant business came about from his experience delivering meat to many of them. He noted that you learn a lot about operating a restaurant when you drop in the back door of those in operation. Joyce has always had a love of cooking and it was no adjustment to step into the cook's role in their own business.
